The buzz, my friends, is justified.

Metalhead, the “dark, intense drama of loss, faith, redemption, and heavy metal” from acclaimed Icelandic director Ragnar Bragason, is a gorgeous, harrowing, touching, and, despite its black metal grim moments, ultimately, uplifting piece of tour de force filmmaking with a soundtrack that previously only existed in the dreams of true-ly cultivated headbangers.

Check out the exclusive clip below and full trailer. And then go here for a FREE ticket to the upcoming Brooklyn screening.
